WHY PARTICIPATE NOW?

This year, all three of IFA's Safety, Health and Environment (SHE) benchmarks will be conducted in the same year, for the first time since 2018.

Since their introduction in 2002, IFA's benchmarks have enabled fertilizer production companies to measure and improve their SHE performance.

By participating in benchmarking, your company can be part of the collective effort to raise standards across the industry.

Companies participating in all the benchmarks and having a valid IFA Protect & Sustain certification (or Responsible Care or ISO equivalent), will be recognized among their peers with the Industry Stewardship Champion medal at the IFA Strategic Forum 2024.
